

TSA Portfolio Management Inc.
Form CRS Customer Relationship Summary June 2020

Item 1 Introduction

TSA Portfolio Management Inc. (TSA) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an Investment Adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. The SEC offers free and simple tools to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS which also provides information tailored to educate retail investors about financial professionals.

Item 2 Relationships and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me? Our firm offers the following principal investment advisory services to retail investors. If you request investment management services, we will:

- Tailor an investment approach for you that reflects your age, income, family circumstances, financial condition, retirement goals, investment goals, and your risk tolerance.
- Conduct periodic reviews of your investment goals and asset allocation in light of any changes in the above factors.
- Provide ongoing monitoring of your investment accounts.
- Buy and sell securities for your accounts that are a part our Firm’s investment strategy and that are consistent with your financial condition, goals, and risk tolerance.
- We will do so on a “discretionary” basis that authorizes us to trade without your prior approval of each trade. We may also advise you on a “non-discretionary” basis for designated accounts or assets whereby we would only make investment recommendations to you and allow you to make the decisions as to which securities to buy or sell.

Individual Portfolio Management - TSA Portfolio Management through our various programs offer investment strategies for specific clients based upon the Client’s investment objectives, financial status, risk tolerance and specific instructions stated by the Client during consultations.

Sub Advisory Programs -TSA also offers advisory management services to our clients through sub advisory programs. TSA will performs management searches of various unaffiliated sub advisors to identify which portfolio management style is appropriate for that client.

In addition, our firm maintains a minimum account size for various programs which is negotiable under certain circumstances and at our discretion. Should we agree to waive this minimum account size, we would receive less compensation for services provided.

Conversation Starters. Ask your financial professional...

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Should I choose a brokerage service? Should I choose both types of services? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 Fees, Costs, Conflicts and Standard of Conflict

What fees will I pay?

You will pay advisory fees on a quarterly basis, in arrears, which is based on the value of the cash and investments in your account. The fee any investment adviser charges reduces the value of your account when it is deducted each billing period. You will pay the asset-based fee each period even if no securities are bought or sold in your account.

Third Party Costs: Some investments (e.g., ETF’s and mutual funds) impose additional fees (including transactional and product-level fees) that reduce the value of your investment over time. Additionally, you may also pay fees to a custodian that will hold your assets.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Conversation Starter. Ask your financial professional...

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we must act in your best interest, as a fiduciary, and not put our interests ahead of yours. Where the interests of our Firm or employees conflict with our duties to you, we must work to eliminate such conflicts or tell you about them in clear, understandable terms in our Form ADV Part 2, so that you can decide whether or not to work with us. You should understand these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. What this means is:

- We charge fees for our services, and by definition that creates a conflict with your interests. The more assets there are in your investment account, the more you pay to us in fees, and we therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

Conversation Starter. Ask your financial professional...

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated based on a percentage of the management fees collected from advisory accounts. The principals, managers and control persons are compensated based on salary and/or bonus. This can create conflicts as these professionals may be incentivized to seek new clients and increase managed assets. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts.

Certain employees and/or associated persons of TSA are also registered representatives and employees of our Broker Dealer, Halliday Financial, LLC. In addition, certain TSA employees and/or associated persons are also insurance agents of various insurance companies. TSA endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser.
